The Comparative with Spain

Key Data

- Spanish companies are 23% smaller, on average, than their European counterparts, employing an average of 4.7 employees, compared to nearly 6 in our neighboring countries.
- Spain ranks third in the EU for having one of the most atomized business landscapes, with 99.25% of businesses being small.
- Spanish microenterprises exhibit the second-lowest productivity levels among European countries, surpassed only by Portugal. This lower productivity exacerbates the challenge of their small size.
